ROWDYISM IN BROOKLYN:

UMPIRE GAPPNEY ASSAULTED AND ST. LOUIS TEAM FORFEITS.

Robinson and McGraw Ejected and Patrons Howl for the Return of Their Money-Pittsburgs Win Handily From the New Yorks While the Philadelphias Win a Close Game. If the Brooklyns could win all of their games as easily as that of yesterday they would have a walkover for the pennant. 'The Champions were declared winners from St. Louis by forfeit, because of disgraceful rowdyism by the Missourians, one of whom went so far as to indulge in a fight with Umpire Gaffney Hanlon's men, therefore, maintained their lead of thirty-four points over the Pittsburgs. even though the latter won handily again from the New York tail-enders. The Philadelphias took a close game from the Cincinnatis and appear to have a cinch on third place. The games wound up the last series of the Western teams in the East, which, barring Pittsburg. has been disastrour for them. The Brooklyns from now to the end of the season will have a much harder road to travel than the Pittsburgs, as Hanlon's men must meet Boston, Philadelphia and New York, while the Smok; City team must mix it up with St. Louis, Cin cinnati and Chicago. The results:

Brooklyn, 9; St. Louis, 0 .- Forfeited. Philadelphia, 8; Cincinnati, THE RECORD.

BROOKLYN, 9; ST. LOUIS-(FORPEITED.

Baseball as controlled by the National League has received many a hard knock of late, but nothing so disastrous as the row that wound up the Brooklyn-St. Louis game at Washington Park vesterday afternoon in the first half of the third inning. Farrell opened with a scratch two-bagger to centre field and took third on McGinnity's sacrifice. Jones then third on McGinnity's sacrifice. Jones then hit to Wallace, who threw low to the plate to catch Farrell. The ball struck the ground in front of Catcher Robinson and bounded away from him. Robinson recovered it and made a stab at Farrell just as the latter came rushing home.

"Safe!" said Umpire Gaffney.

Robinson tore off his mask in a rage and threw the ball at the umpire's legs. Then the irate catcher made a rush for Jaffney and pushed him backward. Robinson looked so threatening that Gaffney, with his mask in the right hand, almed a blow at Robinson's head. By that time several St. Louis players had jumped in between the combatants and the fight was stopped.

"You are fined $5 and are out of the game." said Jaffney to Robinson." You are a dirty robber!" yelled Capt. McGraw, coming up on the run.

"You are out of the game, too." retorted Gaffney, who was backing away from the pugilistic players.

"We have no other catcher." said McGraw,

Gafney, who was backing away from the pugilistic players.

"We have no other catcher." said McGraw, "as Beulow has a bad finger and Criger is suffering from a broken rib. Why don't you let Robinson go on and catch? Do you want to disappoint these people who have paid their money to see a game of bail?"

Gafney was in a quandary. He wanted to consult with somebody in authority, but neither President Ebbets nor Manager Hanlon of the Brocklyn Club was present. So he hurried to Capt. Kelley of the Champions, who was in charge.

to Capt. Kelley of the Champions, who was in charge.

"Do you want to let Robinson come back into the game?" asked Gaffney.

"I have nothing to do with it," was Kelley's reply. "You have made a ruling and you are supposed to attek to it. If St. Louis doesn't play, you cught to know what your duty is."

Then Gaffney appealed to McGraw again and the St. Louis captain insisted that nobody could catch but Robinson. Gaffney, after a moment's deliberation, declared the game forfeited just as Robinson was handing his chest protector and mask to Criger, who was in uniform. As Gaffney walked off the field the St. Louis players fired a volley of abuse after him while the 1,000 spectators howled for their money. The only Brooklyn official who had any authority to deal with the spectators was T. C. Simpson, the club's secretary. He ordered rain checks to be issued, but there was still a clamor for money. One man who paid 25 cents to see the game raised a hubbub at the main entrance. He cried out so that everybody could hear him:

"I have seen all but three games this year."

I have seen all but three games this year and when I ask for my 25 cents back I am told that I will be ejected by the police if I don't take a rain check and go away peaceably. I've that I will be ejected by the police if I don't take a rain check and go away peaceably. I've pienty of witnesses."

Just then Ebbets showed up and asked what was going on. When he learned the cause of the row he decided to pay back money to patrona as far as it would go. Meanwhile Gafney was in the dressing room, white as a sheet, and trying to explain matters.

"I called Farrell sale," said the umpire, because Robinson did not touch him with the bail. I was right on top of the play and was therefore in the proper place to see it. I had nothing left to do but put Robinson out of the game and when the St. Louis players would not go on I had to declare a forfelt. I am sorry for the people who paid to see a game, but it could not be helped. McGraw, the St. Louis captain, told me on the field that my decision was just."

McGraw when asked if he had said to Gaffney that the ruling was fair declared that the umpire had told an untruth. Robinson said:

Thave never been put out of a bail game before and I have been playing for fifteen years. I have always upheld umpires but in this case I lost my head. I touched Farrell when he was five feet from the plate and he never even got to the plate. When I heard Gafney say the man was safe I got mad and did something which I sincerely regret. I would apologize now to Gaffney were he present, for he and I have always been good friends. I do not believe in kicking at all and deserve to be scored severely for what I have done."

President Ebbets, who was chiefly responsible in having Gaffney reappointed to the League umpire staff, insinuated that he would prefer charges against Robinson. Ebbets said that if he had been present when the row occurred there might have been serious trouble for the St Louis catcher. The forfelt was more than an ordinary blow to the St Louis club, for the Brooklyn club, under the rules kept the entire gross receipts, minus the amount refunded to those who stayed long enough to get back what they had paid into the box office.

PITTSBURG, 5: NEW YORK, 2. Chesbro was a stumbling block for the New Yorks at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon and as a result Pittsburg took the rubber game. Carrick pitched for the Harlemites and did fairly well. The visitors played a fine fielding game, not an error being scored against them. O'Connor carried off the batting honors getting in two singles and a two-bagger. Murphy, the new second baseman, is rounding into first-class shape. The score:

dent Peterson Is Here. Phil Peterson of Baltimore, the Presiden of the new baseball league, known as the National Association, arrived in this city last night. He refused to discuss the situation except to say that Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, St. Louis and Milwaukee had put up $5,000 each as a guarantee to begin next season with and that the two other cities would be selected from Greater New York, Provi-

Detroit, all of which have applications for The National Association men, however dence, Washington, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and franchises filed with him.

The National Association men, however, have a scheme in mind that may be a surprise to the National League magnates. They want to have the present Brooklyn club owned by Abell. Von der Horst, Hanlon and Ebbets together with its great team, jump the League and join the new association movement. They say Brooklyn has always been a twenty-five-cent town and that it would be a big factor in the success of the new league. If they can induce the Brooklyn men to make a move of this kind and can also locate a new club in Cincinnati, where John T. Brush appears to be in disfavor just now, it is believed that the National Association will not only be a go but will also come near outbidding the old League for public patronage.

It is known that the National Association men are anxious to secure the allegiance of the Eastern and American leagues and also the support of the Protective Association of Professional Baseball Players. If they can form a combination of this kind the promoters of the new organization say they will be ready to fight the League magnates, should the latter show a combative disposition. When asked last night if the Brooklyn club would entertain any such proposition from the National Association President Ebbets said:

"As far as I am concerned the Brooklyn club will stick to the National League. The new League only exists on paper as yet and therefore cannot expect to receive recognition from anybody."

President Peterson hunted up McGraw and Robinson of the St. Louis club, but they refused to talk baseball with him, saying that it would be a breach of contract to do business with anybody outside of the Robisons until after the season.

The Eastern League season ends on next Saturday.

According to unofficial records Wagner leads the League players in batting. League players in bailing.

Practice of the Big College Elevens Yesterday.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 19 .- A full hour's hard exercise, a bigger bunch of candidates and the first attacks this season upon Trainer McMas ters's dummy were the features of to-day's practice on Soldiers' Field. The morning work was varied by dumb-bell exercise in the work was varied by dumb-bell exercise in the locker building, but was short. The afternoon's tasks were lengthened out until, when Capt. Daly headed the men for home, with a two-lap sprint around the gridron, they were puffing and blowing like a school of porpoises. As a result of the afternoon's work the signs for good material from which to pick an eleven are much more hopeful than yesterday. George Lee, the six-foot guard from Northwestern University, who was ineligible to play lest year, has returned. He donned the togs and after an hour's vigorous exercise tipped the beam at 195. He seems in better condition after an hour's vigorous exercise tipped the beam at 195. He seems in better condition and more active than last fall. Hollingsworth also returned to-day. Other new men were Page, '02, who weighs 120 pounds; Brent Taylor, '01, who has played on 'Varsity squads for two years; Taylor, '03, 146 pounds; Locke, '03, 135 pounds; Pier, '03, and Goodhue, '04.

Princeton, Sept. 19—Ten more candidates joined the squad of football players at Princeton this afternoon. The most of them were members of the entering class and their adventupon the field has been expectantly awaited by the athletic authorities and undergraduates for some time. It must be said, however, that the showing made by the new men was not to encouraging and falls far short of what many had been led to expect from the stories that have been recently going the rounds of the campus concerning the abundance of new material. Judging from appearances, the new players who have any possibility whatever of being able to attain 'Varsity form can be counted on the fincers of one hand. The squad of fifty men was divided into three parts this afternoon. Balliette drilled the candidates for centre and guard. Nat Poe, superintended the work of the backs and Arthur Poe showed the ends and tackles how the trick of boxing is done.

Branford Point, Sept. 19.—There is great joy among the Columbia football players tonight. Word was received this evening that Hennen, the champion swimmer of the New York A. C. has consented to join the Columbia football squad on Sept. 29. Hennen is an experienced athlete. He played on the Harvard freshman eleven two years ago, is a clever weight putter and a fine all-around athlete. He is just the man that Columbia needs for a guard. He is studying at Columbia, but had not intended to play football this season. The Columbia football men, however, appealed to Hennen to join the squad and he has promised to do so. He is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 190 pounds, and is at present in the pink of condition, ashe has been swimming all summer. Columbia's boys took an afternoon off this afternoon and went to the Branford county fair.

ITHACA, Sept. 19—Coach Houghton increased the work of the football candidates to-day by lining them up to give instruction in breaking through. The candidates go out morning and afternoon now, and at the close of each practice the men take a two-mile run. The work is gradually stiffening and probably to-morrow the men will get their first signal work. There is a dearth of new heavy material, but some promising freshmen are expected toward the end of the week. Capt. Starbuck's arm is improving, but it is doubtful if he will be able to get out in suit for a week.

to get out in suit for a week.

The New York University football team began practice yesterday afternoon at Berkeley Oval. Of last year's Varsity squad the following reported: Young, Weidner, Reese, McClinchie, Hyatt, Fernaid, De La Mater, Cornell, Brennan, Wilding, Scudder, Craig, Clevedon, Blunt, C. I. Allen, Banning, Griffen, Lane, Lyon, McEnhill, Moore, Trede, Simpson, Twidy, A. L. Wilcox and Soosen. As the college year does not commence until next Wednesday, no freshmen were tried, but indications point to an abundance of new material.

New Haven, Sept. 19.—Yale men know nothing about the story that Columbia got Daly away from Yale. It was known here last spring that Daly was coming to Yale but Yale supposes that he decided to go to Columbia for reasons of his own, Yale men brand the story of Columbia's enticing Daly away from Yale as a fake. Yale has made no attempt to get Daly and believes the same of Columbia.

New Haven, Sept. 19—Capt. Gordon Brown of the Yale football team this afternoon picked out his first 'Varsity eleven of the season. It was made up as follows: Ends, Coy and Gould; tackles, Kunzig and Thompson; guards, Goss and Hooker; centre, Richardson; quarter, Fineke; half backs, Chadwick and Cook; full back, Hyde.

This eleven was started in signal practice. Many chang, swere made in this make-up during the practice. Keane, one of last year's half backs, arrived during the practice and was put in at half backs, in place of chadwick. A rumber of men were tried in the rush line. In punting, Perry Hale, last year's centre rush, did some brilliant work. His kicks were high and long. Hyde, the old Trimity player, was also described in his nurther.

STATEN ISLAND HORSEMEN PARADE. tearly Two Hundred Parade, Including Many

Clear skies and a large turnout made the parade of the Staten Island Driving Club held yesterday afternoon a decided success. It Staten Island and hundreds of people lined the streets along the line of march to witness the parade, and there was much applause for the participants. The club is a newly organized one on Staten Island, and the membership is composed of citizens who own fast horses and fancy rigs, and since the organization of the club, which was soon after the opening of the Southfield Boulevard, the members have used this thoroughfare, a level stretch about six miles long in the centre of the island. for speeding purposes. In the parade vesterday were all the crack Staten Island horses as well as visitors from clubs in the vicinity of New

The parade was scheduled to start at 2 o'cloc from Port Richmond, and a few minutes past this time the march was begun. The line started from the corner of Broadway and Bennett street led by a squad of mounted police. Councilman Benjamin J. Bodine acted as grand marshal and he was assisted by J. Judson Worrell, Frederick Scott and Ferdinand Keegan, who acted as aides. The line of march led through Bennett street to Richmond avenue, to Richmond terrace and thence along that thoroughfare, through the villages of West New Brighton, New Brighton, Tompkinsville and Stapleton to the Fingerboard road, and thence to the Southfield Boulevard, where the parade was reviewed by the Grand Marshal. Deputy Commissioner of Highways Henry P. Morrison, Councilman Joseph F. O'Grady and Alderman John J. Vaughan, Jr. In the line there were between 170 and 180 turnouts. Among the road teams were Benjamin Brown's Neilie B. and Roanoke and Read Benedict's pair of bay geldings, both of which attracted considerable attention. In addition to the Staten Islanders in the parade there were representatives from the Pleasure Drivers' Association of Brooklyn and the Hudson County Driving Association of New Jersey. At the conclusion of the parade there was some informal speeding on the Boulevard between the faster trotters, but owing to the crowded condition of the roadway there were no long races. Dr. C. W. Townsend's Lady Lou and Dr. James McKee's Dalsy Reeves hada tussle of about a quarter of a mile, Dr. Townsend leading when he had to draw up on account of the crowd.

Among those in the parade were George Bechtel, with his brown mare, Creeping Flower, 2:234; E. J. Schroeder, Jr., of Jersey City, with his brown gelding Chance, 2:224; E. J. Schroeder, Jr., of Jersey City, with his brown gelding Chance, 2:234; Howard Avery with his brown gelding Chance, 2:124; Robert McRoberts with his bay mare, Neilie, 2:50. Other exhibitors, members of the Staten Island Driving Club, were: Capt. Jacob I. Housman, W. L. Ricard, M. E. Wygant, E. W., Thompson with his brown mare Lumber Girl, 2:184; Hen started from the corner of Broadway and Bennett street led by a squad of mounted police.

JEFFRIES AFTER FITZSIMMONS. Manager Brady Will Give $3,000 to Bob if He Fights the Champion.

Billy Brady has decided to alter his recent ffer to Bob Fitzsimmons, on behalf of Jing Jeffries, and give the former champion until Dec. 1, instead of Nov. 1, in which to accept Jeffries's recent challenge. In issuing a defi to Fitzsimmons Brady says that the boilermaker has established a new precedent, as it is not customary for the holder of a title in pugilism to challenge prospective opponents. Brady declares that Jeffries's injured arm is in shape to stand a vigorous course of training, and adds that the champion is now prepared to set a date for a battle with "Lanky Bob," something he was unable to do a few weeks ago. To show his sincerity Brady states that he will bet $12.000 to $10.000 that Jeffries will beat the Cornishman, and that he will give Bob $1.000 the moment he signs articles of agreement and $2.000 more when he steps into the ring to fight.

"In regards to Ruhlin," said Brady yesterday, "we are perfectly willing to do business with him provided Fitz refuses to entertain a match with Jeffries. If Ruhlin wants a match after Fitz says he will not fight, he must post $2,500 at once when the articles are signed on Dec. 1, the match to take place before the club offering the best purse on Feb. 1. On that date Ruhlin must post $5,000 more to cover leafting some of the course of the club offering the best purse on Feb. 1. On that date Ruhlin must post $5,000 more to cover customary for the holder of a title in pugilish the club offering the best purse on Feb 1. On that date Rublin must post $5,000 more to cover Jeffries s money. He also must agree that the winner take all the purse, including the picture privileges, &c. The referee must be named, too, on Feb 1. If these two men do not care to fight, let them stop talking. Jeffries is the champion and if they want to gain his honors they have to beat him first."

At the September meeting of the Executive ommittee of the Good Roads Association here was a full attendance with President James D. Beil in the chair. Twelve new memers were elected. The committee on the completion of the Harway avenue bridge approach reported seeing the Comptroller and that the work had since been done. The Committee on Highways reported that there was urgent on Highways reported that there was digent meed for the asphalting of the few blocks on Greene avenue between Washington avenue and Classon, where the cobblestones now compel cyclists to make a detour of half a mile. This has long been one of the greatest demands of the driving and wheeling public as otherwise there is an unbroken stretch of asphalt from the beginning of Greene avenue to Lewis avenue. The reason why it has not been attended to is that the big sewer main of the city has not yet been completed there and the asphalt will not be laid until after the street has been opened and the sewer finished. The asphalting of Canal street from fleury street to Prospect Park West is one of the jobs for which a contract has been awarded. It is a very desirable piece of work, but so extensive that there is little prospect of its being done this fallso a committee consisting of President Bell and A. Schwalbach was appointed to call upon Comptroller Coler and urge him to "register" the contract which if done will permit the work to be pushed through early in the spring. The next meeting of the association will be held at the hotel headquarters on the Boulevard, and Chief Eugineer N. P. Lewis of the Highway Commission is expected to make an address on the road improvements of this year and the outlook. need for the asphalting of the few blocks on Supt. Brackenridge of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit when interviewed regarding the frequent violation of the city ordinance requiring trolley cars to stop at certain asphalted crossings announced to a committee of the A. C. C. that he heartily approved of the ordinance, as he believed it a wise one that guarded the cyclists from accident and that he wanted it enforced in order that there might be no damage suits. He declared that he would discharge any motorman who was shown to have violated the law and the company rule by not stopping. He requested that riders and drivers should take note and report offences, as it is necessary for him to have specific complaints in order to act. The superintendent further said that the bricks at the Vermont avenue and Fulton street crossing, will be repaired and that he will fix any crossing, for which the railroad company is responsible, that is shown to be in a dangerous condition.

There came very near being a serious rupture in the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island this year over the bowling tournament. In fact there were a few minutes toward midnight last Monday night when there were shadowy possibilities of wholesale resignations and a breaking up of the organization. It began when the Social Intercourse Committee was brought to book for changing the rules and prohibiting the changing of the personnel of the teams, after the beginning of the tourney, instead of allowing every club to draw upon its entire membership during the season. An amendment to the new rules of the Social Intercourse Committee was offered. It was not carried. A motion to reconsider caused a turmoil. The amendment was reconsidered and carried. The chairman of the committee tendered his resignation and left the room. A fellow committeeman followed suit. The situation was saved by a most manly action on the part of the room and said that while his attitude on the main question was unchanged he would withdraw his resignation.

good racing. Regulars were on hand early for their daily battle with the ring and went home sadder but possibly not wiser men. They ound a successful favorite in the second race and came pretty close to the mark in the fourth or which the winner and fifth horse were equal choices but the balance of the programme urnished a harvest for the bookmakers. The Monarch Stakes brought out a good field three-year-olds: in fact, the list of eight on the card would have remained intact if S. C. Hildreth had not withdrawn King Bramble in favor of Vulcain. W. M. Barrick's consistent onso colt, McMeekin, figured good enough in the eyes of the talent to justify a plunge which cut his odds from 2 to 1 to 9 to 5. Killashandra and Vulcain were next in demand, but there was a steady play on Rockton at 4 to 1. The Meddler colt had been a quiet tip for some days, but many of his followers weakened when they looked over the jockey list. O'Connor, still nursing a broken thumb, was slated to ride Sanford & Sons' candidate, and it was feared that he would not be able to do himself justice with a lame hand. He got off in front, however, and after losing his lead for a moment to Contestor went on again and won easily by a length and a half from McMeekin, who moved up from a bad position in the run through the stretch and took the place by two lengths from Killashandra. The Whitney filly ran a disappointing race and there were no bouquets forthcoming for Turner when he landed her in third place after a tedious overland route.

Although Modrine had all the worst of the weights in the handicap for all ages he was selected by the talent to beat La Tosca II. Meehanus, Mayor (Gilroy, Hesper, Motley and half a dozen others. The Sir Modred colt had his racing plates on and after killing off Smoke in the first furlong he cut out the pace to the end, winning easily by two lengths from La Tosca II, who beat Motley three parts of a length for place honors.

to the end, winning easily by two lengths from La Tosca II., who beat Motley three parts of a length for place honors.

An event that rivalled the Monarch Stakes in attractiveness was the handicap for all ages, at one mile and a quarter. Greenock, Trillo, Compensation and Princess Evel·n were withdrawn, leaving the compact field of seven to go, with Decanter a weak favorite over Douro and Jack Point. Hidreth scratched Trillo, in favor of Gonfalon and for nearly a mile the running seemed to justify his judgment. Gonfalon was travelling along in front at a rare cip, with little buildog Charentus hot on his trail. The latter led for a moment in the stretch, but Bullman came along with an irresistible rush on Favonius and won out by a length and a half from Decanter, who finished a troublesome trip creditably. Douro and Charentus were close up, but Jack Point's apparent inclination to finish last was spoiled by the collapse of Laverock.

The Chamberlain won the three-year-old sciling race and was promptly annexed by S.C. Hidreth, who raised his price from $500 to $1,200 Hildreth also fancied Luerana, the Russell filly which captured the two-year-old selling dash and he bid her up $500 over her entered price of $1,500 before letting her go to the owner. Larry Waterbury's Kid won the dash for maiden fillies, which wound up the card. Summary:

American Turf Congress in Session.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.-The delegates to the annual meeting of the American Turf Congress, whose rules regulate the racing on the Western and Southern tracks, are in session at the Wellington Hotel. The clubs represented are the New Louisville Jockey Club, the Latonia Jockey Club of Covington, Ky the St. Louis Jockey Club, the New Memphis Jockey Club, the Arkansas Jockey Club of Little Rock, the New Louisiana Jockey Club of New Orleans, the Queen City Jockey Club of Newport, Ky; the Washington Park Club of Chicago, the Chicago Jockey Club, the Highland Park Club of Detroit, and the Harlem Jockey Club of Chicago. The meeting was called to order behind closed doors as usual. There is likely to be a bitter fight when the election of officers comes up, which will probably be tomorrow some time, as Murphy, Hopper, Price and others are making every effort to secure the election of Robert Aull, President of the St. Louis Jockey Club, to that position. The License Committee announced that it stands prepared to defend its action in the Burns case. This is ant to lead to a very pretty all-around fight, as will also the question as to the minimum size of the purses to be given in cities of 500,000 and more in population. The only business transacted at to-day's session was the reading of spectre and the deeping to deep Citempatic Little Rock, the New Louisiana Jockey Club ransacted at to-day's session was the reading reports and the decision to drop Cincinnati and Lexington tracks.

Julia Hanover, Decanter, In Shot, McMeekin and Olea proved expensive investments for the talent yesterday. O Connor signalized his reappearance in the saddle resterday by winning easily on Bookley yesteroay by winning casily on coacou and running third with Douro.

The Russell-Cheesestraw filly, Luerana, must be something above the ordinary as S. C. Hildreth was willing to pay $2,300 for her after the fourth race at Gravesend yesterday, but could not make Owner T Murphy weaken. T Murphy weaken.

Jockey Bullman is having his own troubles, but is winning a record for nerve. After being flattened out under a horse the other day he worried Turner so much in the first race at Gravesend yesterday that the latter compilained to the stewards. They set Bullman down for the balance of the meeting and fined him $200, which he promptly proceeded to win back by scoring with Modrine and Favonius.

Many owners, trainers and regulars at Gravesend resterday questioned the sportsmanship of S. C. Hildreth in bidding up The Chamberiain, a coit belonging to parties that are said to need all they can get just now. Itildreth was perfectly within his rights, however, as the race carried selling conditions, and he ran second with Annoy. The winner cooled out quite lame, and it is a question whether the buyer secured a bargain.

Hammer Thrower Flanagan Returns to New

Word has been received that John Flanaga holder of the world's record for throwing the 16-pound hammer, arrived at New Haven on Monday last. His whereabouts has been somewhat of a mystery since the international games in which he represented the New York A. C. After the games Flanagan went to his home at Kilmallock, Ireland, but told Trainer Murphy that he would be on hand for the American championship meeting. He was entered by his club in both the Metropolitan and A. A. U. events and much surprise was expressed when he failed to appear to defend his titles, it was then rumored that the champion hammer thrower did not intend to return to America.

A man who met him in the old country brought over the news that in conversation Flanagan stated that there was nothing in athletics in this country and that he intended to stay in Ireland. His appearance at New Haven two days after the national championships complicates matters and athletes are wondering what induced him to forego competing at Columbia Field last. Saturday. It is said that Flanagan will again give the Vale athletes the benefit of his experience in heavy weight events by coaching the candidates for the hammer throwing and shot putting at the intercollegiate games. RICHARD CROKER'S TROTTER WINS. Electric Wilkes Takes the First Harness Race at Guttenburg in Straight Heats.

Jack Curry took Richard Croker's Electric Wilkes over to the Guttenburg track on Monday and yesterday in the 2:35 trotting class, the first harness race on the programme of the Tri-State Fair, made the initial winning for the Croker string of trotters. Electric Wilkes has been showing fast work-out miles, but until yesterday he never had his nose under the wire first. He won in straight heats without a pparent trouble and made a record of 2:17% in the second heat. In that heat, he left his feet on the back turn and had to go fast down the homestretch to head Sandola, B. T. Birney's gelding which forged to the front and had a long lead by the time the Croker gelding got into his stride. Half way down the stretch Curry overhauled Birney and they made a race of it to the wire, passing under which Electric Wilkes made a short break, which did not better his position and the judges awarded him the heat. Amlott made the race to the wire in the third heat, but was beaten out by a length by Electric Wilkes in the slowest time of the race. Between heats the crowd was entertained by gymnastic performances, sparring bouts and the exhibition of trained animals on a platform erected near the judges' stand. Between 12,000 and 15,000 persons enjoyed the sport.

The second race, 2.20 pacing class, was also won by one of the Empire City track horses, Flora Melvor, owned by G. H. Koler and driven by Charley Thompson. She won the money in three straight heats quite handily. Elizabeth D. gave her a brush down the stretch in the first heat and W. H. Reinecke's Ostrich took second place in the second and third heats.

John F. Gibson's Rosolo made her first appearance in a race in the 2:50 trotting class and proved herself to possess all the attributes of a good racing mare. She made but one mistake, leaving her feet near the upper turn where there is a soft place in the track. The big company in which she was did not "rattle" her in the least. She won the first two heats easily and lost the third through over confidence on the part of Mr. Lockwood, who drove her. The race was carried over until 1 o'clock to-day. The free-for-all trotting class will be decided to-day and also a 2:20 trotting class. Following are the summaries:

COLUMBUS, Sept. 19.—Conditions of weather and track were favorable for good racing on the third day of the Columbus Driving Association's fall meeting, but the sport was rather tame and the attendance small. Favorites won the 2:20 trot and the 2:19 pace, the latter being the most holly contested race of the meeting. J. S. Golschall, diver of Spring Lock, had a remarkable escape from injury in the second race. The mare reared and fell, turning a back somersault. Gotschall was not only not injured, but finished the race. Summaries:
